

The Toughest Wire Screens money can buy.

We call it GatorWire™. And it's hungry for the fat in your budget. This new hybrid wire designed by Buffalo Wire Works finally combines high tensile strength with ductility to withstand the trauma of product impact and vibration fatigue. GatorWire is the next generation in wire cloth screen technology engineered to save you both time and money. Put GatorWire to work for you and replace old-fashioned oil tempered screens, because only the strong survive!

Get Up to Two Times the Wear.

How would you like to be more productive, as well as lower your cost per ton?

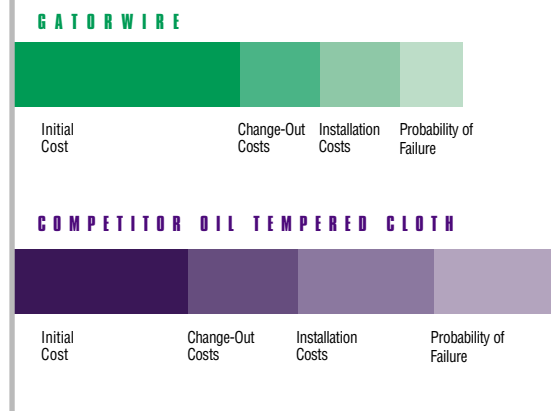

GatorWire's designed-in abrasion resistance provides up to two times more screen life than standard oil tempered wire cloth. GatorWire is also more consistent in properties like uniform hardness and uniform wire diameter for more even wear. Now abrasion has met its match. What else would you expect from an innovator in Screen Media?

Reduce Downtime, Reduce Change-Outs and Reduce Your Screen Budget.

When machines are down, so goes your profitability. GatorWire is a saver when it comes to downtime and costs. GatorWire wears thin and smooth, and that means predictable screen replacement and a healthier bottom line. Your company is in business to win, not fail. So why would you even consider a product that has a greater probability of failure? Spend less time changing screens. Spend more time generating product. When you look at the GatorWire Savings Chart, it's clear that GatorWire increases profitability, not your fill pile. Today you can begin to decrease all your hidden costs: Installation Costs, Change-Out Costs, and Probability of Failure Costs.
